THE CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS.

The proposed amendments to the State Constitution, as certified by the Secretary of State to the County Clerk, are printed in the APPEAL this morning. Some of them are fairly good, more of them are bad and a few of them are worse than bad. The best of them, which are supposed to be in the interest of economy, will consolidate a few State offices, but if adopted will complicate matters and create confusion in the Government. The amendments providing for the investment of State school fund in other securities than State or National bonds is bad, as the school fund should be held sacred for the purpose of educating the youth of the State. The amendment to disfranchise all who bore arms in the Confederate service thirty years ago could only have emanated from small politicians in the interest of political jobbery. Hon. Thomas Settle of North Carolina, who fought on the Confederate side and who was Chairman of the National Republican Convention that nominated General Grant for a second term to the Presidency, could not, if alive and a resident of Nevada, if this amendment is carried, exercise the right of suffrage.

Men who are heavy taxpayers in the State who have carefully read the proposed amendments express the opinion that the best thing the people can do with the amendments is to defeat them by voting against them. The proper thing to do is to call a constitutional convention for the purpose of revising the present Constitution or framing a new one that will be adopted to the present requirements of the State. With a population of about 40,000 a Constitution modeled on that of New York is wholly unsuitable for Nevada and the patchwork proposed by the Legislature of 1891 and which the voters are now called upon to ratify, does not help the matter.

A Constitutional Convention should not cost as much as the special election held a few years ago to ratify the lottery amendment and it would save the State fully as much as it costs annually.

Mr. Kersey's Card.

Mr. Kersey in his card to the Tribune makes a labored defense of his assessment of the Odd Fellows' building. The APPEAL was not aware that any charge had been made against Mr. Kersey on these grounds.

The assessment of $1,050 on the Carson Opera House cannot be explained away. It is a large and expensive building and a portion of the property is rented to Mr. Brault for a hotel, for $35 a month. Thirty-five dollars a month will strike one as pretty fair interest on $1,050.

If the rest of the property in Ormsby was assessed like this, Ormsby would be a paradise of low taxes.

Now let us take the rating on two well-known citizens.

R. M. Clarke, $5,375.

H. M. Yerington, $7,880.

Now will anyone pretend to say that this represents an equitable assessment; will anyone pretend to say that H. M. Yerington is not worth more than twice as much as R. M. Clarke.

Mr. Kersey tries to show that the Opera House must be taxed low because its income is small. If the income is to be taxed, why is not Wells Fargo taxed this way.

The Carson Water Company is taxed on less than $30,000. Did it not occur to the Assessor to consider the income of this company, when it comes to rating the tax valuation?

The wealth of the county of Ormsby lies with the Republican party, and the way Kersey has assessed the wealthy people of this county is very satisfactory to them. So much so that they will spend a large sum of money to insure his election. He is the rich man's friend, and one has to but carefully study the tax roll to very fully realize it.

Mr. Woodbury the Republican candidate for County Commissioner has some very fine candidates cards with rounded corners. They are very artistic, having been printed in Virginia City. In case Mr. Woodbury becomes County Commissioner he will probably give county work to people in Storey County and purchase county supplies there. It might be a good idea for Mr. Woodbury to hunt votes in Storey County.

The News keeps on squirming, and now tackles Expert Day's report, making a direct mistatement, when it says Hanford acknowledges a shortage. Expert Day reported all that the papers showed receipts for, but did not show the amounts over and above what the Carson U. S. Land Office receipted for that was paid to it, and which can be sworn to if necessary.
